- Q. All right. So I'm just going to go back and ask a few of those questions again just to make sure that everyone can hear. You testified earlier that you're a special agent with the FBI. Is that correct?
  - A. Yes.
    - Q. Where are you currently assigned?
- A. I work on the Violent Crimes against Children squad.

documents that you have reviewed?

Yes.

Ladies and gentlemen, let me just give you a brief instruction. Some of the testimony that you'll hear today will include what's called hearsay. As you know, that means that the witness will not be testifying solely from her own observations, but that she'll also be reporting to you what others have told her and what she's read in reports and documents prepared by other people. Hearsay evidence is admissible in these grand jury proceedings, and you're free to rely on it in determining whether there's probable cause to indict the proposed defendant. If, however, you would like to hear the testimony of any other witness, you have the right to request it and we will make reasonable efforts to bring that witness before you. BY MS. Special Agent

- She meant that they were building a relationship with her, giving her things, taking her places. And then usually when the grooming happens, an offender will -- once they gain that trust, they will make the relationship turn sexual.
- Now, you testified just a moment ago that described to you that she felt at this time period that they were grooming her. Is that right?
  - Α. Yes.
- Is that something that she realized at the time when she was 14, or is that something that she's described to you now?
- Something she's described now. She didn't realize that at the time.
- So we'll talk a little bit more about grooming in a moment, but just to give context are you familiar with the term grooming based on your experience investigating crimes involving a sexual exploitation of minors?
  - Α. Yes.
- Generally speaking, -- you were touching on this a moment ago, but if you just could explain in full. What is grooming?
- Grooming is when someone builds a relationship with a child. They find a vulnerability or a need and then they work on gaining a child's trust, and then oftentimes gaining a parent's trust. Once they have that trust, they show that in ways that they care about them by giving them gifts and promises. And then once that's established, they then turn the relationship sexual, oftentimes making sexual comments and normalizing the behavior.

- Now, during these visits that you've been told you about, did describing that say whether Epstein ever gave her anything?
  - Yes, she did. Α.
  - What did he give her?
- He gave her cash. Sometimes he'd tell her to give the cash to her mom because he knew that they needed it. paid for her voice lessons as well.
- Now, you were describing how has characterized these visits now. But based on your conversations with her, at the time did she feel that these visits were strange at all?
- She thought they were strange, but Maxwell normalized it for her. She was like a cool older sister and made comments like this is what grownups do.
- You used the phrase cool older sister. Is that a phrase that used to describe how she felt about Maxwell at the time and what Maxwell was like?
  - Yes, those are her words.

  - A. Yes.
- Q. You were describing for a moment what told you about Maxwell's role during these group encounters.

  Would Maxwell sometimes guide the women and give instructions about what to do?
- A. Yes, she would.
  - Q. What would typically do during these episodes?
  - A. She would try to not look at Maxwell because she gave off that sister vibe so it felt weird for her. She would try to be invisible in that room so they would ignore her as much as possible.
  - Q. In the beginning when was approximately 14 or 15, would she generally begin by just massaging Epstein's feet?

- Q. What did she tell about that?
- A. Maxwell told that Epstein was going to like her.
- Q. Did there come a time when she was 17 that described that Maxwell introduced her to Jeffrey Epstein?
  - A. Yes.
  - Q. How did she describe that occurring?
- A. Epstein had flown to London. He was at Maxwell's residence in London and Maxwell had called over. So went over and when she got there, Maxwell was saying to Epstein kind of -- the words used was giving him a resume of her attributes. Saying she's so pretty, she's so strong, and then Maxwell asked her to give Epstein a massage.
- Q. Now, you testified just a moment ago that Maxwell -- that described to you that Maxwell asked her to give Epstein a massage during this first meeting. Is that correct?
  - A. Yes.
- Q. Did Maxwell say to her in sum and substance since you're so strong I'd appreciate it if you give Jeffrey a massage because he needs a massage every day or I get in trouble?
